“The international observance of World Water Day is an initiative that grew out of the 1992 United Nations Conference. The United Nations General Assembly designated 22 March of each year as the World Day for Water by adopting a resolution.”

BLUE GOLD
WORLD WATER WARS

Throughout the world, our limited fresh water supply is being polluted, diverted, pumped, and wasted. Blue Gold follows numerous examples of people fighting for their basic right to water, from court cases to violent revolutions to local protests at grade Schools.

The Great Lakes are the largest fresh water bodies in the world. The basin is home to Canada's largest urban population - those cities have dramatic impacts on the lakes. The film takes a deeper look at the Great Lakes to show how important they are and are we taking care of them?
