

46-514 Research Methods in Clinical Psychology

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: October 6, 2017

(Sa171006-5.5.2)

Learning Outcomes	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate
This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:	A U Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
A. Demonstrate a working knowledge of a range of common research related concepts, methods and designs.	A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
B. Identify existing literature relevant to research domains and research questions. Effectively present existing and novel research in oral and written format. Demonstrate a basic ability to link theory and preceding findings to hypotheses and research methods.	B. research skills, including the ability to define problems and access, retrieve and evaluate information (information literacy)
C. Effectively critique published research.	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
D. Draw on knowledge of analytic/statistical methods to critique existing research and develop novel research.	D. literacy and numeracy skills
E. Adapt and articulate ethical considerations in research.	E. responsible behaviour to self, others and society
F. Effectively critique research ideas. Effectively critique literature and peer work.	F. interpersonal and communications skills
G.	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
H. Situate novel research within existing literature.	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
I. Create and apply research to understanding and solving problems.	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning