

46-706 Predoctoral Clinical Internship/Residency

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: October 6, 2017

(Sa171006-5.5.2)

Learning Outcomes This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
A. Apply advanced knowledge acquired in preceding training to the provision of clinical services in the internship setting. Demonstrate advanced knowledge of legal, regulatory, and policy issues that apply to clinical practice. Demonstrate sophisticated and contextualized knowledge of the strengths and limitations of clinical knowledge and techniques.	A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
B. Participate effectively in scientific endeavors related to clinical services at the internship as required. Access and utilize scientific literature relevant to the services being provided. Develop research relevant to clinical practice.	B. research skills
C. Apply broad advanced knowledge of normal/abnormal behavior to case formulation and treatment in the context of human development and diversity. Demonstrate increasingly sophisticated integration of previously acquired knowledge and experience to the provision of services in the internship setting. Demonstrate independence in the provision of effective clinical services. Innovate in the provision of and research on clinical services.	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
D. Prepare client records per the policies at the internship setting.	D. literacy/ numeracy skills
E. Interact professionally with clients when providing clinical services. Demonstrate self-awareness and willingness to work on interpersonal and technical skills essential to the role of clinician in an internship setting and as a practitioner on the verge of professional independence. Display consolidation of professional identity within the internship setting. Provide clinical services consistent with professional standards in the regulated health profession of Clinical Psychology. Independently use sound ethical reasoning in clinical work. Seek and effectively incorporate supervisory feedback.	E. responsible behaviour to self, others and society
F. Demonstrate interpersonal competence and skills appropriate to the advanced practice of Clinical Psychology.	F. interpersonal and communications skills

Learning Outcomes This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
Demonstrate advanced skill in communication with clients, supervisors, colleagues, staff, and others involved in the internship setting. Participate appropriately within the management hierarchy in the internship setting. Seek and use supervision effectively. Demonstrate a basic knowledge of the administration of clinical services.
G. Collaborate effectively to provide clinical services. Provide leadership appropriate to the intern role.	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
H. Appreciate the uniqueness of each client and clinical situation.	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
I. Engage in self-assessment of professional competencies. Plan to pursue licensure/registration as an independent professional.	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning