

46-721 Applied Social Psychology Practicum

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: October 6, 2017

(Sa171006-5.5.2)

Learning Outcomes This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of the course, the successful student will know and be able to:	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
A. Develop applications of social theory to practical projects or to existing situations in non-academic organizations and initiatives.	A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
B. Access existing research literature and develop novel research, as required within the practicum setting.	B. research skills, including the ability to define problems and access, retrieve and evaluate information (information literacy)
C. Identify best practices for organizational initiatives that are grounded in social psychological theory.	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
D.	D. literacy and numeracy skills
E. Demonstrate ethical consulting skills.	E. responsible behaviour to self, others and society
F. Communicate applied social psychological research findings to non-academic audiences through formal reports and/or presentations. Seek and effectively incorporate supervisory feedback.	F. interpersonal and communications skills
G. Function as a part of a non-academic team in non-academic initiatives.	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
H.	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
I.	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning