

46-688 Introductory Practicum in Clinical Neuropsychology

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: March 9, 2018

(PDC180212-5.8)

Course Learning Outcomes This is a sentence completion exercise. At the end of this course, the successful student will know and be able to:	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
A. Demonstrate mastery of test administration of a full neuropsychological battery for a given age range (i.e. child/adolescent vs. adult/older adult). Administer standardized neuropsychological tests in the clinical setting to a range of clients. Summarize the results of the tests they administer in writing. Demonstrate knowledge of legal, regulatory, and policy issues that apply to practice within a clinical neuropsychology setting in test selection and test administration.	A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
B. Investigate the relevant underlying constructs in the scientific literature (e.g., different strategies for conducting a mental status exam, etc.) from their required observations and present the results of their research at weekly didactic sessions.	B. research skills, including the ability to define problems and access, retrieve and evaluate information (information literacy)
C. Identify threats to validity of test results and plan alternative assessment procedures when test invalidity is identified.	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
D. Prepare timely, concise, and accurate client records per the policies within the clinical neuropsychology service	D. literacy and numeracy skills
E. Interact professionally with clients when providing clinical neuropsychology services. Demonstrate appropriate levels of self-awareness and willingness to work on interpersonal and technical skills essential to the role of clinical neuropsychologist in a clinical setting. Demonstrate sound ethical reasoning in all aspects of clinical neuropsychological practice. Demonstrate sensitivity to issues related to individual and cultural diversity in all aspects of professional practice.	E. responsible behaviour to self, others and society

Provide clinical services consistent with professional standards in the regulated health profession of Clinical Psychology. Seek and effectively incorporate supervisory feedback.
F. Demonstrate interpersonal competence and skills appropriate to the needs of the clinical neuropsychology service. Follow instructions provided by supervisors in the clinical neuropsychology service.	F. interpersonal and communications skills
G. Work effectively with supervisors, allied professionals, and staff to provide clinical neuropsychology services.	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
H.	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
I. Reflect and engage in ongoing self-assessment to improve professional practice and competencies.	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning