

36-230/ARCH 1300. Architectural Design III

Learning Outcomes

Last Updated: April 7, 2010

PDC100308-6.2

Course Learning Outcomes	Characteristics of a University of Windsor Graduate
At the end of this course, the successful student will know and be able to:	A U of Windsor graduate will have the ability to demonstrate:
	A. the acquisition, application and integration of knowledge
- investigate building codes, mechanical systems, and universal accessibility for a particular design situation and use to inform design choices (also relevant to E)	B. research skills, including the ability to define problems and access, retrieve and evaluate information (information literacy)
- recognize and use elements of an iterative design process that includes analysis of the problem, identifying its core elements, developing appropriate solutions, and evaluating the results	C. critical thinking and problem-solving skills
	D. literacy and numeracy skills
- recognize the cultural meaning and implications of selected design choices (also relevant to A & C)	E. responsible behavior to self, others and society
- listen to and interpret user needs beyond what may be communicated and integrate such interpretation into a solution that meets the clients needs (also relevant to H)	F. interpersonal and communications skills
	G. teamwork, and personal and group leadership skills
	H. creativity and aesthetic appreciation
	I. the ability and desire for continuous learning